

Not being able to understand TV programs are aggravating enough. If anyone want to exclude the captioning, you can grant them provided they will disable the audios too. Audio should always be tied to captions